GARFIELD AND ARTHUR CLUB ORGANIZED. A meeting of the republicans of the city was ed at the colored Odd Fellows Hall last night trebe purpose of organizing a Garfield Arthur campaign club. Mr. I. C. O'Neal was called tribe chair, and George A. Griffin acted as

The club was organized by the election of the blowing officers: Pas dent. W. II. Whiting; presidents, T. L. Tarcil, Rudolph Thomp-I. C. O'Neal and F. M. Hunter; sceretary. . A. Griffit; assistant secretary, Wm. A. Carlett treasurer, Robert Gaines; sergeant-atons, George A. Line ek and James Dudley, the ex entire committee, then, after some do bate, was selected as follows: H. L. Harris, the Cooper, J. W. Nickens, R. L. Tancil, R. Lucis, Louis E. Payne, Geo. H. Thompson, A W. Harris and W. H. Madella.

This, the Garfield and Arthur club of the my of Alexandria, starts out with about two handred members, and it is proposed at an carly dir to hold a mass meeting to ratify the nomis of the Chicago convention.

At a late hour the meeting adjourned, and those who were campelled to be there had to had their way home the best they could, for the night was not duk, but bleck-a regular corporation moonlight eight. There did not seem to be a lamp lit in the whole city. One past blow who had probably just returned from Washington, at the corner of Washington and Cameron streets, fell over a pile of bricks that had been left in the middle of the pave-ment, and the last heard of him he was grounrig and hosping the stars upon everybody and verything in general.

Collision.

NEW YORK, June 15 .- The steamer The Queen, which arrived here, reports that on June 13, 300 miles cast of Sandy Hook, during sorts of people; some still doing all the little a dense for, she come in collision with the steamer Archeris, of the Archer line, Lound from New York for Glasgow. Both vessels were very seriously damaged, and for awhile it was thought that both steamers would go down, The Ogen's bow was stove in. The Queen took of all the passengers of the Acchoria (180 in number), and brought them to this port. The Archeria is still outside the ber waiting for assistance. She has about twenty eight feat of water in her held.

The crew of the Archoria behaved in the most cowardly manner, being the first to jump We fear these old timers are types of a justo the boats when transfer of the passengers from the steamer to The Queen was about to be made. The captain of the Auchoria showed remarkable nerve during all the trying scene, and finally prevailed on his crew to come back to the steamer, and she consequently arrived at this port all safe. The Queen kept close to the Archeria until the Highlands were reached.

FROM WASHINGTON. Special Correspondence of the Alexa, Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15, 1880. During the debate on the suger bill in the House to day Mr. Conger clevated his here and said that the bill wis introduced at the itstance and in the interest of fereigners. This brought Mr. Free to his feet instant'y, and inducid him to remark that what the gentleman from Michigan tal just said was not only uttrue, but that the gentleman kot wit was so when he gave it utterance. Mr. Conger was struck dumb for an ics ant by this direc: assult from his own side, and never entirely recovered, only regaining strongth enough after awhile to imply that Mr. Frye was no gentleman, and to tell him at a subsequent stage of the preceedious, and only loud coough for these in the immediate vie nity to hear, that he would live to be sarry for the upprovoked attrek.

Among the strangers on the floor of the Senate to day was Rozer A. Pryor, who was talking to his upole, Senator Pryor, from Alabama. Mr. Pryor doesn't look a day older than he did when he was a member of the House before the war. His presence recalled the memory of the famous l'otter affair, and to Southers men of the large white mule he used cessary surgical assistance, and the wounded to ride as a brighter in the Confederate service, man is doing well, although unable to use his of his subsequent resignation and service as a private and captain while exchanging newspanets with Union soldiers on the picket line. His political disabilities were removed some time sice, and it is thought that he will come back to Congress again next year from one of the districts in New York city. He thinks the democrats will have no difficulty in electing their presidential ticket, and is understood to be in favor of Bayard for l'resident.

An unsuccessful attempt was medi in the House yes'e:day afternoon to get up the bill for a free bridge arross the Potemac. This bill, it will be remembered, has passed both the House and Senate, but was amended in the Senate so that the House has to pass on it again. Some of those who objected to it yesterday were seen to day and agreed to withdraw their of jections, but others took their places, so that a similar attempt to day met with the same fate. It is understood, however, that still another effort will be made. The lessons of the Alexandria canal are in fiver of the bill as amended by the Senate, but are opposed to a conference com. mittee, fearing that such a committee will agree to allow the Senate's amendment. The friends of the bill in the House, however, fear that that body will not agree to the Senate's amendment, and are therefore in favor of a conference committee as the only hore of having the bill passed at this session. The indications now ere that the bill will have to go over, and that the Virginia farmers who want the free bridge will grow sick from hope deferred.

Mr. Garfield returned to the city this morning. It is understood that while here he will write his letter of recoptance and in it take oceasion to explain the Chinese p'ank in the Chicago platform. Whether he will attempt to explain the official reports of the House and of the Poland investigation committee with reference to the Credit Mobelier fraud is not stated. Should the weather be faverable tonight the grand reception, for which the c'orks in the departmen's were bled to the tune of $5 000, will be given him.

The radicals taving defeated the electoral ecuat bill by fi ibastering in the House yesterday, resorted to the same means to day to kill the sugar bill, and, with the aid of the members from the sugar producing distric's, susecceded. In the Sepate the democrats did two things calculated to in jure themselves in the presidential election-ene of which was their refusal to take up the barley malt bil', the passage of which would have won them the sup part of all the ter manufactories in the country, and the other, their of jection to the consider ation of the eight hour law. This last of jection will strengthen them in the minds of all sensible people, for there is no earthly reason why the comparatively few laborers in the government service, who are better paid than any other class of laborers should be additionally favored by having two hours taken from their day's work, but experience proves that trades unions are composed of secuible people and all trad : unions are in favor of the eight hour law.

The session will acjourn at noon to morrow, and the crowds about both houses to day are unusually large. They are emposed of all they can in the way of endeavoring to get bilis passed in which they are personally interested; many to seek aid to obtaining a government position or to be restored to one that has been lost, and, sad to relate, many more to collecbils which they fear the depering members will forget to set I: before they leave. As most of them will meet with liel; or no success, the general soncarance of their feers is elongated, and the different curations of disappointment and distress, are plainly perceptible.

DEATH OF GERARD STITH .- A private dispatch received here this morning annuncis the death of Col. Gerard Suth at Wytheville, Va. For a year past his health has not been good. though until within a few weeks he retained his position as foreman of the composition room of the Picayuse, a position he held for more than a third of a century, with the ex caption of the two years during which he faithfully served this city as its chi.f magistrate, Two or three weeks ago he went to Wytheville in hopes that the fresh mountain air of Virginia wou'd entich his impoverished blood and restore him to health. But these hopes proved delusive, and now the places which knew him so long on earth will know him co more forever. Gerard Suith was descended from the oldes and best families Virginia, and worthily represented the noblest qualities of the true Virginiz gentleman. He leaves a wife and one daughter, who, for some months past have resided with their relatives in the neighborhood of Washington, but were present at the time of his death. - N. O.
